I am writing to object to the stopping up and realigning of the road at Prince's Parade.

This action would have dire consequences in so many areas. It would cause traffic issues on A259 and though this is a big problem, I believe it is nothing compared to the devastation of the wildlife habitat and the canal that would take place as a result. The new road is planned to run within 13.32m of the canal in contravention of the environment agencies recommendations. I'm not sure how this has been allowed to happen and I implore you to stop this going ahead. This is not time in human history to continue putting profit, building and industry before nature. We all know the impending consequences that are now catching up with us as a result of decades (and more) of small decisions like this at council levels as well as on a bigger scale. It may be one small road, but we are talking about the continued destruction of the home we all live in. It has to stop somewhere. Seemingly small decisions like this have created a place where our children's future is literally in jeopardy. Please do all you can to stop this. The consequences for the wildlife cannot be underestimated. The consequences for us, the residents who use the canal daily as a place to connect with the natural world, to be quiet and to come together in nature would be extremely distressing, life changing in fact.

Thank you for your help.

Amanda Jayne
