What are my options?

If you are looking to move home, you may wish to register for social housing whilst also conducting a search for accommodation in the private rented sector.

Social Housing

Social rented housing is owned and let by a Council (Local Authority), or Housing Association (also known as registered provider).

Council Housing in our area is managed by Folkestone and Hythe District Council whilst Housing Association Properties are managed by several different housing providers, such as Orbit, Southern Housing, Town and Country, Sanctuary and more.

In Kent social rented housing is allocated to people via an online lettings system called Kent Homechoice. It's free to apply and you don't need to raise a deposit if you are offered a property, although some Housing Associations may ask for one or two weeks rent in advance. The demand for social housing does outweigh supply, which means that homes are let to those in most need.

How to join Kent Homechoice

You will need to complete an online application form at www.kenthomechoice.org.uk to join the housing register detailing the area that you wish to apply to, in this case – Folkestone and Hythe. Initially, you will be asked to create a profile which is details about you. This area will hold all of your information and applications going forward and is called your 'Portal'. Following this you will see a purple banner asking you to complete a pre-assessment which will indicate whether you are likely to be eligible to join the housing register, before you can choose to complete a full application or not. If you do not have access to a computer, you can attend any local library where you can use computers for free. Alternatively, you can complete the form at the Folkestone and Hythe District Council offices although you will need ongoing access to the internet to manage your account portal and to bid for accommodation.

The Council will decide, based on your circumstances, whether you are eligible and whether you qualify to join their register and what your housing need is. Folkestone and Hythe District Council use bands to assess priority for housing.

Eligibility

To apply to the housing list in the Folkestone & Hythe District you have to meet one of the following local connection criteria:

- Currently live in the district and have done so continuously for the past 2 years or 3 years out of the last 5 years
- Worked in the district for the last 6 months for 16 hours per week or more, in permanent employment (not casual)
- Have close family members who currently live here and have for the last 5 years

- (parents, brother, sister or children) over the age of 18 years
- Are currently or have served in the armed forces within the last 5 years immediately preceding your application

And

- Have a housing need that you cannot meet from your own resources, or
- Your current home does not meet our housing requirements

Medical Consideration

If you or a member of your household have medical problems, which is made worse because of your current living accommodation please complete the health section of the online form. We aim to carry out this assessment, once all supporting medical information required has been submitted, within 40 working days. We will write to you again confirming if any additional Banding has been awarded to your application. If the medical problem that you or a member of your household is suffering with is not made worse by your current housing situation your Banding will not be reassessed.

Assessment of your Application

When you have completed the online application form, you will receive a series of actions in your Kent Home Choice portal which will ask you to supply some evidence. You must supply all supporting evidence requested within 28 days of the date of the application. The evidence can be uploaded directly to us through your portal. Alternatively, if you do not have access to your portal you can email them to housing@folkestone-hythe.gov.uk or posting them to the civic centre. Please note the quickest way to get them to us to be assessed so that your application can be made live is to upload them directly through your Kent Home Choice portal. If you were to bring a large quantity of documents to our offices, they would need to be left with us and therefore, please photocopy them beforehand to enable you to leave copies.

Once you have supplied all relevant information requested, and providing we have received everything we need, it is our aim to complete the assessment of your application within 15 working days.

If you are accepted onto the housing list, you will receive an update indicating this in your portal.

Once you receive this you can look for a Council or Housing Association home in the area you are registered in. When you see a property you like that you are eligible for, you will need to express an interest by bidding for the home.

Should you wish to change any of your details in the future you can also do this yourself through your portal.

How to bid for homes

Kent Homechoice will advertise all Council and Housing Association homes available to let. You can look for homes on the Kent Homechoice website. You can bid daily for homes:

-  On the website
-  By telephone to Folkestone and Hythe District Council (if you are unable to bid yourself)

Please note, all properties are only advertised for 5 days meaning you need to log on at least twice a week a couple of days apart to ensure that you see every property advertised.

You can see all available properties in the 'properties' tab in your portal. Click on each one to see more details about it and to bid simply click on apply. It will tell you what position on the list you are and how many other people have bid. You can also make one property at any one time your preferred property by clicking on the love heart.

How you will know if your bid was successful

The property will go to the applicant that has been waiting the longest within the highest priority band who qualifies for the home. If you are successful, you will be contacted. You can then view the home and say whether you will take it.

If you need help bidding

You can ask a friend, family member or support worker to bid on your behalf. If you are unable to regularly access a computer or you have difficulty in using online services, you can register for automatic bidding which will bid for you on all properties of an appropriate size. Please contact your Folkestone and Hythe District Council if you need help bidding or advice on the process.

Demand for housing in our area

The demand for social housing does outweigh supply, which means that homes are let to those in most need. Please note there are around 1,500 applicants on the housing list but only approximately 300 homes become available each year. This means that you could face a long wait before being successful in receiving an offer of accommodation suitable for your needs; unfortunately, some people may never receive an offer.

Private Renting

Private rented housing is owned and let by private landlords.

Renting privately means there is more choice about the area and type of home you want to live in, and it's possible to find somewhere to live more quickly.

Letting Agent Fees

As of June 2019, Letting Agents are no longer allowed to charge fees for credit checks, referencing or administration.

Deposits

You will usually have to pay a deposit. This may be the same as one or up to two month's rent. You will get the deposit back at the end of the tenancy unless you break the rules of the tenancy agreement, such as damage the home or do not pay the rent.

Your landlord must protect the deposit under a tenancy deposit protection scheme within 30 days of taking the deposit and provide you with certain information about how the deposit is being protected. If they do not protect it, they may have to repay it to you automatically at the end of your tenancy or be unable to gain possession of their property.

Inventories

An inventory is a list of furniture, fixtures, fittings and other items in the home including notes of any damage or disrepair that already exists in the property when you first move in. You should sign an agreed inventory with your landlord or letting agent to prevent any future disagreement on the condition of the home when you move in. This will be important when it comes to getting the deposit back at the end of your tenancy.

Subletting

Be wary of anyone who offers to let you rent their home if it's a social rented home. This is called subletting and can be illegal. Also, be aware that private landlords may not want you to sublet part or the entire home. This is usually mentioned in the tenancy agreement. If you need permission from your landlord to sublet all or part of your home, get this in writing.

What if I can't afford my rent in advance or deposit?

If you are unable to afford your rent in advance or deposit you may be able to negotiate with the Landlord to allow you to pay extra each month to build up a deposit or rent in advance, particularly if you are renting a bedsit.

You may also wish to speak to friends and family to see if they can assist you with the money up front and then you can pay them back on a monthly basis.

If you are working, you may be able to speak to your employer for a loan or advance to assist you with your rent in advance.

Alternatively, you could consider the following options:-

Discretionary Housing Payments

If you are in receipt of Housing Benefit or the Housing Element of Universal Credit and you do not have enough savings to pay the deposit and/or rent-in-advance, then you may be able to get support through the Discretionary Housing Payment Fund. There is no automatic right to this and you have to be able to show a real need.

Once you find a private rented property, ask the landlord/agent for a letter confirming the following:-

- The landlord/agents name, address & contact details
- Confirmation of the name of the person they are offering the property to
- The address of the property
- How much the rent is
- How much the deposit is
- Whether rent in advance is required
- When the tenancy can start

While the landlord/agent is preparing the offer letter, complete a Discretionary Housing Payment application form online by going to the following web address www.folkestone-hythe.gov.uk/housing-benefit/discretionary-housing-benefit.

At the end of the form it will state what evidence you need to provide and this will include the offer letter from the landlord. You can email these to compliance.development@folkestone-hythe.gov.uk or bring them to the Civic Centre to be scanned onto your application.

The Housing Benefit team will then assess your application and if you are successful will pay the monies direct to the Landlord.

Budgeting Loan or Budgeting Advance

You can apply for a budgeting loan for:-

You can only apply if you or your partner has been receiving Income Support, income-based Jobseekers Allowance, income-related Employment and Support Allowance or Pension Credit for the last 6 months. How much you can borrow will depend on your personal circumstances, with the maximum amount being £812. The loan is usually paid direct into your bank or building society account. It is an interest free loan which you have to pay back and is usually payable by direct deductions from the amount of benefit you receive over a maximum of 2 years. For more information, please visit www.gov.uk/budgeting-loans/overview.

If you are claiming Universal Credit you will need to apply for a Budgeting Advance www.gov.uk/universal-credit which will then need to be paid back through your Universal Credit payments therefore reducing your monthly Universal Credit payment.

Housing Options Rent Deposit Scheme

If you are homeless, and none of the options above are possible for you, you may be able to request support from Folkestone and Hythe Council's Housing Options Team with a loan for one month's rent in advance and/or deposit. This is not something which is automatically offered to all homeless applicants and you would need to have your financial situation and previous tenancy history investigated and assessed by a qualified officer and then your case would be referred to a manager for consideration. Please note this is assessed on a case by case basis, and the property would need to be deemed affordable for you on your current income.

Relocation

If you do not have a strong connection in this area, are looking for a more affordable property and place to live or just feel like relocation could be an option for you, there are opportunities for you to relocate to other parts of the country where the housing is in greater supply and with rents under or closer to the Local Housing Allowance rates there.

Help with Power and Utilities

If you are having trouble with your utility payments and have a pre-paid meter, the first thing you should do is look into minimalizing your costs by conserving energy and water.

Some ideas for saving water are:

- get a water butt to collect rainwater which you can use to water plants
- check for leaks
- don't over fill the kettle
- fully load your washing machine
- install a water saving device in your toilet
- take timed showers instead of baths

For more water saving ideas visit Save water - Kent County Council

Ideas to help you save energy are:

- turn lights off
- turn the thermostat down a degree
- don't heat empty rooms
- bleed your radiators
- close blinds and curtains in evenings to keep heat in
- turn off appliances on standby
- only heat as much water as you need
- avoid using tumble dryer and dry clothes outside if it's not raining
- replace bulbs with LED bulbs

For more energy saving ideas go to Quick tips to save energy at home - Energy Saving Trust

If you need further assistance - speak to your energy provider to see if they can offer you any emergency credit.

Other places you may be able to get assistance are:-

Affinity Water Low Income Fixed Tariff (LIFT)

Affinity can offer a LIFT tariff for customers who are earning less than £16,480 a year or who are currently receiving benefits such as Universal Credit or Job Seeker's Allowance. To apply go to www.affinitywater.co.uk/billing/lift

Warm Home Discount Scheme

If you are

- receiving Guarantee Credit element of Pension Credit (core group) or
- on a low income and meet your energy supplied criteria for the scheme (broader group)

you could be eligible to receive a one-off discount of £140 taken directly off your electricity bill. Core group applicants should receive a letter in the winter asking them to apply by calling a helpline. If you are a core group person and have not received a letter by 31st December, you should call:

Tel: 0800 731 0214

People in the broader group should contact their energy supplier to check if they qualify and can apply.

Winter Fuel Payment

If you are of pension age you could get between £250 and £600 to help you pay for your heating bills. The amount you receive includes a 'Pensioner Cost of Living Payment' between £150 and £300.

The Winter Fuel Payment should be paid automatically, so there is no need to claim if you are eligible and either;

- Get the State Pension
- Get another social Security Benefit (not including Adult Disability Payment from Scottish Government, Housing Benefit, Council Tax Reduction, Child Benefit or Universal Credit)

If you do not get either of these or you live abroad, you may need to make a claim.

Cold Weather Payment

You may get Cold Weather Payments if you are getting:-

- Income Support
- Income Based Jobseeker's Allowance
- Income Related Employed and Support Allowance
- Support for Mortgage Interest

AND

- a severe or enhanced disability premium
- a pensioner premium
- a child who is disabled
- Child Tax Credit that includes a disability or severe disability element
- a child under 5 living with you

You will also usually receive Cold Weather Payments if you are getting:

- Pension Credits

You may also receive Cold Weather Payments if you are getting:

- Universal Credit and you're not employed, or self employed

AND

- You have a health condition of disability and have limited capability for work (with or without work related activity)
- You have a child under 5 living with you

If you are eligible, you will receive £25 for each 7-day period of very cold weather between 1st November and 31st March.

There is no need to apply. If you are eligible, you will be paid it automatically.

If you think you should have received a Cold Weather Payment but have not, please advise either:

Help with paying your rent and Universal Credit

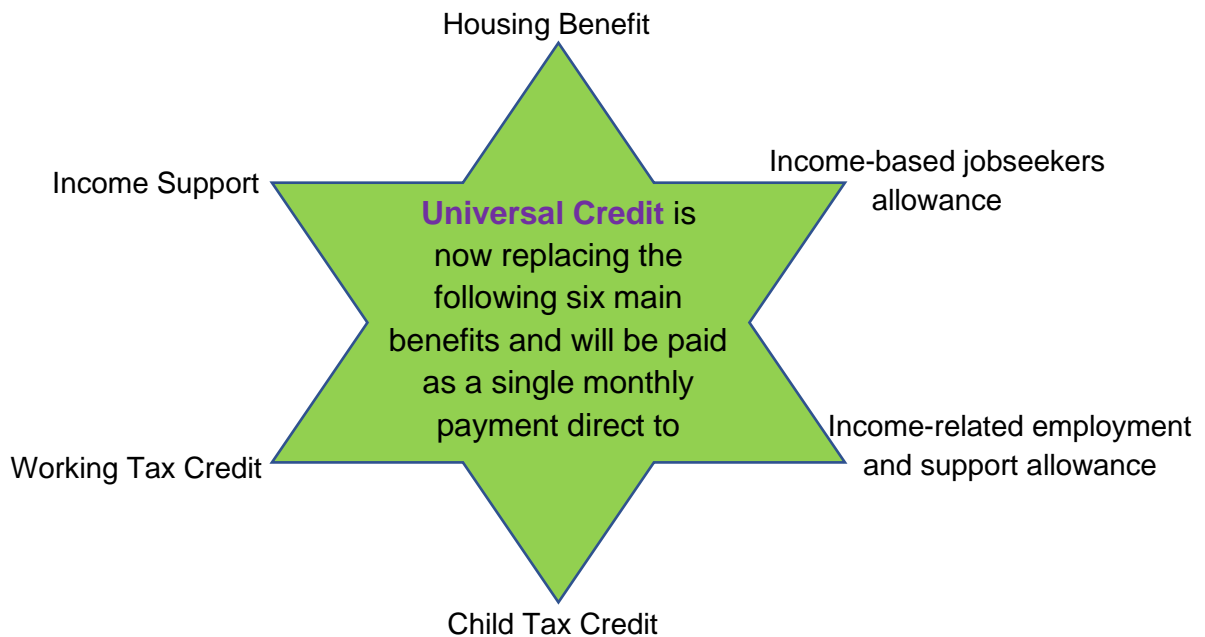

If you are on a low income, you may be able to get help with paying some or all of your rent. You should never withhold your rent.

If you are claiming Housing Benefit and are a Council or Housing Association tenant, this is paid direct to your landlord. However, if you are a private rented tenant or claiming Universal Credit your benefit for housing will usually be paid direct to you. You must then pass it onto your landlord or it will result in rent arrears and your possible eviction. It is possible to have it paid direct to your landlord if you are a vulnerable person. If you are claiming Housing Benefit you can request this by contacting Folkestone and Hythe District Council and if you are claiming Housing Element of Universal Credit you should contact them regarding this.

Housing Benefit can be applied for online at Housing benefit application | Folkestone & Hythe District Council \(folkestone-hythe.gov.uk\)

Universal Credit can be applied for at www.universal-credit.service.gov.uk

You can find out more information on the government website: www.gov.uk/universal-credit

If you're already claiming benefits, your local Jobcentre Plus or Tax Credits office will tell you when you have to move to Universal Credit.

How much Housing Element/Housing Benefit can I claim?

The Local Housing Allowance (LHA) is the maximum rates of Housing related benefit that applicants can receive in a given area. How much local housing allowance you get depends on the area you live in. Local housing allowance is limited depending on the number of bedrooms you live in.

If you are a single person under the age of 35 you can only get your rent covered for one room in shared accommodation where you share some facilities with other people living in the same property, such as a kitchen and bathroom. This is called the shared room rate. If this applies to you but you wish to live in a self-contained home, you will have to pay the difference between your rent and local housing allowance. There some are exemptions to this where the exemption may not apply if you are aged less than 35 years old.

Care Leavers are exempt from the shared room rent and are entitled to receive the 1 bed rate until the age of 25.

With LHA rates the country is split up into Broad Market Rental Areas, this is not necessarily by District and therefore each District could have 2 or more LHA rates in payment depending on whereabouts you are living. To find the LHA rate for a particular property you can check this at <https://lha-direct.voa.gov.uk/>

The LHA rates from 1st April 2024 to the 31st March 2025 for properties within the Folkestone & Hythe District are as follows:

Please Note:

- These are the MAXIMUM AMOUNTS for each Broad Rental Market Area (BRMA) and size criteria. The actual amount of Housing Benefit you get will depend on your household, income and savings.

The Benefit Cap

The benefit cap is a limit on the total amount of benefit that can be claimed by people aged 16 to pension age. The benefit cap amounts are:-

- 🏠 £384.62 a week for couples (with or without children living with them)
- 🏠 £384.62 a week for single parents whose children live with them
- 🏠 £257.69 a week for single adults who don't have children or whose children don't live with them.

This cap affects the following benefits:-

If your total income from all of these benefits exceeds the Benefit Cap amount, then the excess will be reduced from your Housing Element.

You may not be affected by the Benefit Cap if you get certain types of benefit or if you are working. For more information visit www.gov.uk/benefit-cap

If you are living in social housing

Spare bedrooms – If you have a spare bedroom your housing benefit may be reduced by 14% for one extra bedroom or 25% for two or more extra bedrooms. You will be expected to pay the difference.

Rent arrears and general financial advice

First Steps

It is important that you assess your finances as soon as you become aware that you might have financial difficulties. The issue won't resolve itself without intervention. The longer it takes for you to take action, the greater the chance that your landlord might take action to evict you for rent arrears.

You need to:

- Assess your finances including a realistic consideration of your income and expenditure
- Sort out your debts
- Maximize your income
- Speak with your Landlord and/or seek advice

Assessing your finances

If you need help managing your money and bills then you can access budget planner at www.moneyadvice.service.org.uk/en/tools/budget-planner

Prevention Plus

Folkestone & Hythe District Council offer a support service for individuals living in the Folkestone and Hythe District who are experiencing difficulties with housing and who meet specific criteria for referral. The individuals will gain advice and support to empower them to plan their short, medium and long term futures as well as supporting them in crisis.

They Prevention Plus Officer may be able to support them with problems with:

- Debt/rent arrears
- Benefit
- Budgeting
- Employment/training
- Health and wellbeing
- Family/host mediation

A landlord can ask the tenant's permission to make a referral for them. Please contact the Prevention Plus Officer on 01303 853483 with the person/tenant's contact details and a brief description of their current situation.

Alternatives to Pay day loans

If you need to borrow money and are thinking of getting a payday loan, stop to consider your options. Although easy to set up, a payday loan can quickly turn into a problem debt for many people.

Credit Unions – Kent Savers

Credit unions offer savings accounts and loans and sometimes other products such as junior savings accounts, Christmas savings accounts, prepaid debit cards, insurance products, cash ISAs and even mortgages. Their main aims are to promote saving and provide members with loans at reasonable rates, so that they feel in control of their own money. They can be a safer and cheaper alternative to other money lending sources, including payday loans, doorstep lenders and loan sharks, and more accessible than high street banks, who can make it difficult for people with a poor credit history to borrow money.

Tenancy agreements

A tenancy agreement is a contract between you and your landlord.

About tenancy agreements

A tenancy agreement tells you what rights and responsibilities you have as a tenant and also about your landlords' rights and responsibilities.

Most of the time landlords will give their tenants a written agreement but they can be verbal. Verbal agreements can be more difficult to enforce if there are disputes because there is no proof of what has been agreed. So, it is always a good idea to ask your landlord for a written agreement.

If a written agreement is given to you, read it very carefully. You will be asked to sign it so if you don't understand anything in it, ask your landlord to explain it or seek advice from your local Citizens Advice Bureau.

Responsibilities in tenancy agreements

Certain responsibilities will apply for both tenant and landlord regardless of whether you sign a written tenancy agreement or not.

Tenant responsibilities	Landlord responsibilities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ To keep to the terms of the tenancy agreement ✓ To pay the rent on time ✓ To take proper care of the property and report repairs that need carrying out ✓ To be responsible for your visitors ✓ To ask permission when its needed (e.g. to make improvements to the property, sublet or take in a lodger, pass on the tenancy when someone dies, run a business from a property) ✓ To give your landlord access when necessary (e.g. to carry out repairs) ✓ To end your tenancy properly 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ To protect your deposit ✓ To carry out certain repairs to the property giving notice of when they will come round ✓ That annual gas safety checks are carried out and you are supplied with a gas safety certificate ✓ That any furniture, if supplied by the landlord, meets fire resistant regulations ✓ To allow you to live in your home without unnecessary interference or harassment ✓ To follow the correct procedure if they want you to leave

S21 Notices and Eviction

Your landlord does not need a reason to end your assured shorthold tenancy (AST), but they must follow the correct procedure. The first step is for your landlord to give you a section 21 notice.

If you have a received a section 21 notice then you should contact your local Council's Housing Advice team as soon as possible.

How much notice you must be given?

A section 21 notice must give you at least two months' notice.

What are the rules around a notice to make it valid?

- The section 21 cannot be served in the first 4 months of tenancy but can be served at the start of a tenancy renewal.
- The deposit must have been registered in a deposit protection scheme of which the tenant is aware of the scheme and registration number
- The Landlord has provided the tenant with a copy of the property's Gas Safety Certificate
- The Landlord has provided the tenant with a copy of the EPC Certificate
- The Landlord has provided the tenant with the Government 'How to Rent' guide (most recent issue at time of start of tenancy)
- The Notice must be served on a Form 6A headed 'Notice seeking possession of a property let on an Assured Shorthold Tenancy'.

Department for Communities and Local Government

FORM 6A
Notice seeking possession of a property
let on an Assured Shorthold Tenancy

Housing Act 1988 section 2(1) and (4) as amended by section 194 and paragraph 103 of Schedule 11 to the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 and section 9(2) and (3) of the Housing Act 1996

Please write clearly in black ink. Please tick boxes where appropriate.

This form should be used where a no fault possession of accommodation let under an assured shorthold tenancy (AST) is sought under section 2(1) or (4) of the Housing Act 1988.

When the notice expires

You do not have to leave when the notice period ends. If you stay after the notice ends your landlord must apply to the court for a Possession Order. Evicting you without a court order is illegal.

When your landlord can apply to court

Your S21 notice will be valid for 6 months and the Landlord should apply to the Court within 4 months of its expiry. After this they will need to issue a new notice with a new notice period.

Is there anything I can do?

At the point you receive a section 21 notice it is important that you get advice from your local Council's Housing Options Team to discuss what support they can provide. This will include checking that the notice has been served correctly. It is possible to request extra time in your home by completing the Defence Form which comes with the court pack. You have 14 days to complete this and send it back to the Court. You have to explain what your household's exceptional circumstances are and you will need to ensure it is properly filled out and returned. You would also use this same form to submit a defence if the landlord has failed serve notice correctly or otherwise failed to keep to their obligations which may mean that the possession action is invalid.

This is why getting advice is so important.

What happens at court?

There won't be a Court Hearing if the Landlord has applied under 'accelerated' proceedings. If there is a Hearing, you will be sent a letter inviting you to attend.

The Court will decide, based on the information provided to them, if the correct process has been followed. If it has, then the Court will make an Order for Possession, a copy of which you should receive in the post and this will give you a further notice period, often 14 to 28 days, and a date to give up the property.

If you do not leave by this further date, then your landlord will apply to Court again and request a Warrant for Possession which the Court will notify you of by issuing an Eviction Order with a Warrant for a Bailiff to attend and evict you. Your landlord can not evict you without using a Court Bailiff.

It is important to note that court fees will apply to any applications and Hearings undertaken and the Landlord can apply to have all costs recharged to you. These are a minimum of £355 for a Possession Order and £130 for a Warrant for Possession although it could be more if the Landlord uses Solicitors. Throughout this time, you will still be liable for paying the rent and should ensure you do so.

Upon leaving you should ensure you take photos of the conditions of the property and note down your meter readings for utilities. If you paid a deposit, you should notify the protection scheme you are registered with, that you have moved out.

Remember to access advice as soon as possible and if you have been advised that the notice and possession action is correct and lawful then you should ensure you are taking steps to try and secure alternative accommodation.

Planning your Budget

Many people find it useful to use a budget planner to work out their money. You can access an online budget calculator at folkestoneandhythethehomelessness.entitledto.co.uk alternatively use the budget planner below to help work out your money.

When considering your budget, if you find you do not have enough income to cover your outgoings, you should ensure that you prioritise your rent, council tax and household bills over loans and credit cards.

Working out your budget

You can work out your budget on a weekly, monthly or four weekly basis – whichever is easier for you. But keep to the same when filling out the budget sheet.

To change a weekly figure to a monthly figure

Multiply the weekly figure by 52 (weeks) and then divide this by 12 (months).

For example, if you have an income of £100 per week, on a monthly basis this is worked out as $100 \times 52 = 5,200 \div 12 = 433.33$

To change a monthly figure to a weekly figure

Multiply the monthly figure by 12 (months) and then divide this by 52 (weeks).

For example, if you have an income of £500 per month, on a weekly basis this is worked out as $500 \times 12 = 6,000 \div 52 = 115.38$

To change a four-weekly figure to a monthly figure

Multiply the four-weekly figure by 13 (payments) divided by 12 (months).

For example, if you have an income of £400 every four weeks, on a monthly basis this is worked out as $400 \times 13 = 5,200 \div 12 = 433.33$

Being a good tenant

Being a good tenant is about keeping to the rules of the tenancy agreement so you can enjoy living in your home problem free. Here are some tips below.

	Always pay your rent		Take care of your home
If you have having problems paying your rent, talk to your Landlord and also get advice from the Citizens Advice Bureau. Failing to pay your rent may lead to your eviction, which could prevent you from securing alternative private or social rented accommodation		Do not damage the home. Try to keep it clean and tidy. This includes any communal areas if you live in a flat, such as stairs, hallways and balconies. You must not allow any visitors to your home cause damage to it or the communal areas
	If you have a garden, keep it tidy		Put your rubbish out
If you are elderly or disabled and need help with maintaining your garden, contact your local council to see if they run a gardening scheme		Your local council will be able to tell you which days the rubbish is being collected. And, if they run a recycling scheme, use it!
	Respect your neighbours		Keep the noise down
Do not cause alarm, harassment, violence, or intimidation to your neighbours. This includes shouting abuse or being threatening. Remember, you are responsible for any of your visitors		This includes playing loud music, having the TV or radio on too loud or if you have a dog, letting it bark all day
	Do not allow anything illegal to happen in the property		Tell your landlord if any repairs need doing as soon as possible
This includes things like dealing or taking any illegal drugs, or handling stolen goods		It is important you let your landlord into your home to carry out repairs and gas safety checks. Never withhold your rent due to repairs
	Protect your contents		Don't bury your head in the sand, keep in touch with your landlord
It is always a good idea to take out contents insurance to cover your personal belongings and household possessions against loss or damage.		If you have any problems regarding your tenancy, speak to your landlord about it. You can also seek advice on any housing issues you may have with your local Citizens Advice Bureau. If you are renting privately and you have not been able to resolve a problem with your landlord, you can contact private sector officers at your local council for advice and assistance

Being fire safe

Here are some fire safety tips to remember. If there is ever a fire in your home, do not tackle it, get out, stay out and call 999.

 Do	 Don't
Fit a smoke alarm and test it regularly You are more than twice as likely to die in a fire if you don't have a smoke alarm that works	Smoke in bed You could fall asleep and the cigarette could fall from your hand and start a fire
Plan an escape route should a fire start and tell everyone who lives with you what this is Make sure the route is kept clear and door and window keys are where everyone can find them	Leave lit candles unattended Make sure they are in a solid candle holder and away from curtains, fabric and paper. Always put them out if leaving a room or going to bed
Take care when cooking with oil and fat If oil and fat gets too hot it can cause a fire. Never put water on hot oil or fat	Overload plug sockets Too many plugs in a socket can cause it to overload and overheat. Using one plug for each socket is safest
Keep lighters and matches away from children Consider buying child resistant lighters and matches	Leave children alone in the kitchen if the cooker is on Keep saucepan handles out of children's reach
Make sure cigarettes are stubbed out and disposed of carefully Do not empty your ashtray straight into a bin. Put some water in it first to help make it safe	Buy electrical appliances without a British or European safety mark Having electrical appliances with a safety mark means you know they are safe to use
Always check for fire hazards before you go to bed Check for things such as whether the cooker, heater or gas fire is turned off and candles and cigarettes are put out properly	Put clothing near heating appliances They could easily catch fire, and never use heaters for drying the clothing

Furnished properties

If your landlord supplies your home with furniture or furnishings, it must be fire resistant. Check for the fire-resistant symbol on the furniture. If there is no symbol, you can ask your landlord to replace it with fire resistant furniture.

Home safety visits

Kent Fire and Rescue Service offer free home safety visits. They offer advice on keeping your home safe from fire, planning an escape route and can fit free smoke alarms. Call 0800 923 7000 or email hsv@kent.fire-uk.org.

Condensation

Are your walls, windows, furniture or clothing damp? If so, you may have condensation.

Condensation is dampness caused when moist air comes into contact with cold surfaces such as walls, mirrors or windows. When the moist air hits the surface, it condenses and forms water droplets. Condensation is often created by cooking, washing or drying clothes.

Why it is a problem?

Left untreated, condensation can lead to black mould growth which can cause serious health problems.

How can you prevent condensation?

Reducing condensation is about balancing the moisture, heating and ventilation in your home. Below are some useful tips on how to do this.

 Do	 Don't
Keep lids on saucepans and switch the kettle off as soon as it starts to boil	Block permanent ventilators or chimneys
Dry clothes outdoors or dry them in the bathroom with the door shut and window ajar	Overfill cupboards and wardrobes – make sure air can circulate
Maintain a constant warm temperature in your home	Put furniture against cold external walls
Close the door when cooking, bathing or showering to prevent steam going into colder rooms. Open a window when doing these tasks	Draught proof rooms where there is condensation or mould growth
Vent tumble dryers to the outside	Draught proof windows in the kitchen or bathroom
Keep a small window ajar or a trickle ventilator open when someone is in the room	Use bottle gas and paraffin heaters

Trip switches

When you live in your new home you will need to know how to reset a trip switch if ever the electricity goes off.

Modern electrical circuits are fitted with a circuit breaker fuse system. If there is a fault on the electrical system, a safety switch is tripped, and the circuit is broken. When this happens, you will need to reset the trip switch to get the electricity back on.

What causes electrical faults?

- Using too many appliances at the same time
- A toaster hasn't been cleaned
- An appliance is faulty or misused
- A light bulb has blown
- An immersion heater is faulty
- A kettle has been overfilled

Where do you find the trip switch?

The fuses and trip switches are in the consumer unit. This is commonly found in a cupboard or boxed area within your home, next to the electricity meter (although sometimes meters are outside or in communal hallways within blocks of flats).

How do you reset a trip switch?

1. Open the cover on the consumer unit so you can see the trip switches
2. Check which switches have been tripped to the OFF position
3. Flick the switches back to the ON position

If the trip goes off again, it is likely you have a faulty appliance. You will need to identify which circuit is being affected and which appliance has a safety fault.

How do you identify a faulty appliance?

1. Unplug all appliances
3. Switch the tripped switch to the ON position
4. Plug in the appliances and switch on lights one at a time to see if it trips again
5. If the trip switch goes again there is a fault with that appliance
6. Turn off the faulty appliance, unplug it and reset the trip switch

If you cannot identify the problem, you must notify your landlord immediately so an electrician can be instructed to investigate and resolve the problem. Never touch the electricity company's fuse and seals.
